

Invent an Insect Competition

Competition rules

1. We do ask you for your full name, age and address but we will only use this to send you your prize if you happen to be the lucky winner, or to display your name, town and age on the Buglife website or in publications if we decide to show your picture
2. Only Buglife has access to your personal details and we will not pass them on to anyone else. You must provide Buglife with the required details if you wish to enter this competition
3. Only one entry will be accepted per person
4. Entrants must obtain permission from their parent or guardian before entering the competition
5. Entries must be submitted by post using the Invent an Insect competition form. They must be sent to the correct postal address and forms must be fully completed.
6. This competition is only open to UK residents under the age of 13 at the closing date. Buglife reserves the right to request proof of age
7. All entries must be received by 5pm on Friday 11th July 2008. Buglife does not accept any responsibility for late or lost entries. Proof of sending is not proof of receipt
8. Your insect design must be entirely your own work. By sending your design to Buglife you agree to grant us the right to display your artwork online or in our publications, and to give your first name and home town.
9. Please note that unfortunately entries cannot be returned
10. The competition winners will be contacted personally. In the event of there being no reply from the phone number, email address or postal address supplied Buglife reserves the right to offer the prizes to a runner up
11. Prizes must be taken as stated - there will be no cash alternatives
12. Entrants must comply with all rules to be eligible for the prizes. Ineligible entries or entries made fraudulently will be automatically disqualified
13. This competition is not open to Buglife employees or contractors or any person directly or indirectly involved in the organisation or running of the competition, or their direct family members
14. Buglife's decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into
